EMS FatFurl mainsail and jib

Double Taffeta, Technora/Vectran

"Fat Head"

Designed with optimum shape and extended, maximum sail area due to the extra roach close to the top of the sail which is made possible with optimally positioned intermediate and full battens.

Slim and soft solutions

Soft patches in top, tack, batten pockets and battens that make the furling of the sail in and out easy.

Clew block (option)

Webbed on clew block ensuring low friction and no resistance when furling and no chafe on outhaul line.

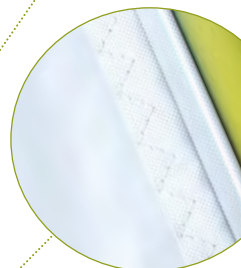

Vertical battens, (option)

Vertical tapered battens for larger sail area and more stable leech

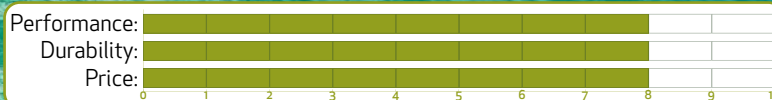

Luff tape

Strong PVC luff tape that lasts and provides long service intervals

Leech line

Solid and stretch resistant vectran leech line and aluminum cleat with 2:1 purchase for easy handling and less need for adjustments in different wind conditions

Conditions apply to eXKO options

Also available in grey and black taffeta
